January 6-7, 2011 Tucson, AZ

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The University of Arizona will host the 5th annual conference of the Auditory Cognitive Neuroscience Society in the Speech & Hearing Sciences \(SPH\) building (located at 1131 E. 2nd Street, Tucson AZ 85721). Talks and discussions will take place from 9:30am until 5pm, both days. Posters will be on display from 8:30-9:30am each morning (and throughout the day). Coffee and baked goods will be available.

This conference was created to bring together researchers from a variety of backgrounds to discuss the cognitive/perceptual processing of complex signals such as speech, music, and natural sounds. This meeting is meant to be interactive so there will be plenty of opportunities for everyone attending to express opinions, outrage, love and affection.
