

POL 340 – Politics In AIS

Fall 2007 - Exam 3

Instructions:

This is a take-home exam. You must answer SIX questions (out of ten). Your answers should be complete and carefully considered. Answers do not have a formal page limit, but typical answers are 1-2 typed, single spaced pages. If you start getting past 2 single spaced pages you are probably writing more than you need to. Each answer is worth 10 points.

All exams must be typed. You may use any standard and easily legible font (Times Roman, Arial, Courier, etc.) and the font size should be no smaller than 12 point. You may single space, double space, or any other space you like. I recommend single spaced answers as they use the least paper and have the smallest environmental footprint, as well as making my backpack lighter when I have to carry the exams home. Answers will be graded on their ability to apply the material from the course lectures and readings to the questions in a way that demonstrates that you both know the information and can think critically about its application to the world. Emphasis will be placed on your ability to connect the key ideas of the course to actual historical events and to combine the two in a clear and concise argument. In writing your answers you will be expected to apply the vocabulary we have used thus far in the course and to show clear and direct connections between the ideas you present and the course lectures AND readings. Any quotes from the text should be cited by placing the author's name and page number in parenthesis following the quote. There is no need to include a bibliography unless you use sources other than those assigned in the course.

This is a take-home exam. It is expected that it will be proofread and corrected for basic errors, including basic errors of fact. While I can tolerate some grammatical and spelling errors, they get annoying after a while and repeated errors will result in lost points. Basic errors of fact (such as putting WWI in the wrong century) will be considered to be a demonstration that you do not know the information and significant points will be deducted.

You may ask questions regarding the exam via email. If I haven't gotten back to you in 24 hours, assume I didn't get your email and send it again. My email treats emails without a subject heading or with spelling errors in common words as spam and deletes them without ever showing them to me, so please include POL361 in the subject line when you ask me a question. If you wish to discuss your exam before you turn it in, please feel free to bring a working copy of your answer or answers (I will look at whole exams or single answers) to my office hours. If you can't make office hours, we can schedule an appointment.

The exam is due by 4pm on December 7, 2007. If you do not turn in the exam during class on the 5th, you must put the exam in my mailbox in the Political Science Department Office (Social Sciences 315) before 4pm. Be sure to get the right mailbox. There are two Professor Dixon's. My mailbox is on the counter in the mailbox area. Don't ask the department staff to date stamp your exam. Department policy is not to date stamp exams or papers. ONLY HARD COPY EXAMS WILL BE ACCEPTED. You may not submit the exam in any electronic format. Electronic submissions will not be accepted. I will pick up all exams submitted to the Political Science Department office (Social Sciences 315) at 4pm. Late exams will not be accepted. If I do not have your exam at 4pm I will assume that you have elected to not take the final and your grade will be calculated using the "no final" option.

You have lots of time. Start early.

Essays – answer six (6) of the following questions

1. How does the economic need for immigration conflict with the social/cultural need for shared identity in advanced industrial states? How does this affect public policy?
2. What does the debate over immigration in AIS tell us about the problems of purely economic approaches to understanding policy?
3. Why do issues of the environment pose particularly difficult problems for AIS? To what degree is this process affected by political institutions?
4. Using our discussion of the environment as a case study, explain how the drive for scientific expertise affects the making of policy in advanced industrial societies.
5. Globalization has been seen as largely benefiting AIS to this point. To what degree is this trend likely to continue?
6. How does globalization limit the policy choices of leaders in AIS?
7. Explain the basic problem in post-Cold War security planning for AIS?
8. To what degree is the security apparatus left over from the Cold War serve to provide security for the AIS in the post-Cold War world?
9. Can the AIS retain a position of dominance relative to the developing states of the world given what you know of policy-making, demographics, and the other key areas of focus for the course?
10. To what degree are political leaders slaves of their governing institutions? Support your answer with at least two examples of the issues we have discussed in the course.
