

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: FOTO.SYNTHESIS: A SOCIAL JUSTICE FILM SHOWCASE

WHAT:

FOTO.SYNTHESIS is a student run and student submitted film showcase at the University of Arizona focused on exposing student opinions and work in social justice and diversity.

WHEN & WHERE:

FOTO.SYNTHESIS will be hosted at the University of Arizona's Gallagher Theater, April 16-18, 2009.

REQUIREMENTS FOR SUBMISSIONS:

- Topic must focus around an issue of social justice, for instance how things like race, ethnicity, gender identity, ability, class, religion, sexual orientation, nationality, etc. relate to health, law, policy, economics, art, and other social institutions and themes
- Submission open to undergraduate and graduate students at four year universities or 2 year community colleges, from all departments and areas of study
- Film must be submitted in DVD format: DVD clearly marked with title, name of filmmaker, running time, which will be kept in a permanent file
- Documentary, experimental, narrative, animation, live action features and shorts accepted
- Please include the informational sheet, filled out in full, with your submission:
Download the sheet at our website, www.fotosynthesisfilmshowcase.com
- Submissions must be postmarked by March 23, 2009.

Must be mailed to:

Katelyn Sadler, Room 232
1000 N. Park Ave.
Tucson, AZ 85719

To learn more, email ksad@email.arizona.edu or visit our website at www.fotosynthesisfilmshowcase.com

Website features interactive blog discussing issues of social justice, so get involved early!