

COMMENTARY*LYMPHOLOGY, MEDICAL IGNORANCE/IGNORAMICS
AND THE NOBEL CONNECTION:
Howard Florey, Joshua Lederberg, and Françoise Barre-Sinoussi*M.H. Witte

Department of Surgery, University of Arizona College of Medicine, Tucson, Arizona USA

ABSTRACT

Intriguing interludes with Nobel laureates have marked the history of Lymphology. Bounded (or rather unbounded) by a mutual fascination with ignorance and the unknown, their curiosity converged around microbes, infections, and host responses mediated by the lymphatic system. These studies transcended a simple “molecular model of life.”